

Handling Medicines Safely for Social Care Staff

Do you need to know more about managing and administering medicines?

Try our Management and Administration of Medicines eLearning Modules which focus on the knowledge and skills necessary to handle and administer medicines safely. If you work in a health and social care environment, and support people with their medicines, either in their own home or in nursing or residential care settings, then you should find this e-learning useful.

- Module 1: Introduction to Handling Medicines Safely
- Module 2: Administering Medication
- Module 3: Ordering, receiving, storing and disposal of medicines
- Module 4: Understanding Medicines

These have been designed especially for you, so that you can access this learning free of charge, from any PC or device and get a certificate of achievement to show you have completed the training.

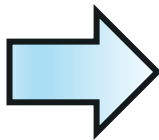

Informal carers

The e-learning modules have been designed primarily to support social care staff. However, informal carers (for example unpaid carers helping a family member, neighbour, or friend) should find Module 2: Administering Medication useful.
